FILM SCREENING AND DISCUSSION: «ALL STATIC & NOISE»

The documentary «All Static & Noise» explores the repression of the Uyghur population by the Chinese authorities in East Turkestan, also known as Xinjiang.

The film follows the stories of Jewher, a young Uyghur woman who was separated from her father, Ilham Tohti, at Beijing Airport, and Abduweli, a poet imprisoned for teaching his language. Through their accounts and those of other survivors of the so-called “re-education camps”, the documentary offers a moving insight into the situation faced by the Uyghur people.

The screening will be followed by a discussion with Uyghur guests from Switzerland, offering an opportunity to explore the issues raised in the film and exchange perspectives.
