HÔTEL MERCURE

A hotel for travellers in search of local and authentic experiences.

"Our hotel is certified with the minergy label and has been designed as a window on the culture and history of the region. Each room features a work of art by a Jura artist. Our team looks forward to offering you a unique experience!"

Directeur, Robin Chételat

Staying at the Swiss Hotel Mercure in Delémont promises an authentic and exclusive experience in the heart of the capital of the canton of Jura: with 44 4* standard rooms decorated in the artistic colours of the region, a bar and breakfast area made entirely of iron ore and spruce wood, and a relaxation room with sauna. Right down to its reception area, designed with the heritage of the canton's watchmaking industry in mind, the hotel sees itself as a noble showcase of Jura culture and craftsmanship.

Just 50 metres from Delémont railway station and barely 50 km from Basel-Mulhouse-Freiburg international airport, our Mercure hotel is ideally located in the new, modern and lively pedestrian zone close to the old town. Amidst the wooded and hilly landscape of the Jura, Delémont presents itself between modern times and tradition. The old town with its medieval facades and Renaissance fountains invites you to stroll and relax among its shops and restaurants.

Our hotel is located halfway between the cities of Basel and Biel and is the perfect starting point for discovering the Swiss Jura. Here you can go on great excursions on foot, by bike or even on horseback, exploring the hills, rivers and green pastures.
