

SPORT, INSTITUT EQUESTRE NATIONAL AVENCHES

IENA CHEVAL PASSION

For horse lovers, the Avenches National Equestrian Institute (IENA) is organising a brand new equestrian festival.

This multidisciplinary event will allow the public to discover a multitude of equestrian disciplines. This new event is intended to be festive, sporty and instructive at the same time.

A new way of seeing the horse through the filter of competition, breeding, leisure and equestrian culture. "IENA Cheval Passion" will aim to highlight the horse, its relationship with humans and its role in society.

Breeding will also play an important role, as the traditional Young Horse Cup in jumping and dressage, a true Swiss championship for young horses, will be organised jointly with the Fédération d'Élevage du Cheval de Sport (FECH) and Cheval Suisse.

Numerous activities and entertainment will await visitors and children throughout the event. From pony rides and face painting to games, there will be something for everyone, regardless of age, at the IENA site.
