SLOWUP LA BROYE

One Sunday in summer, close to Lake Neuchâtel, the slowUp la Broye will begin in Payerne. Cyclists, walkers, scooter users and other fans of soft mobility can take advantage of a car-free bubble, free of charge, to appreciate the surrounding nature and heritage at a leisurely pace. The opportunity to taste some regional specialities adds a gourmet touch to the event.

The “broyard” route forms a thirty-kilometre circuit passing through several towns in the region, including the medieval town of Estavayer-le-Lac and the country town, Payerne.
