DRITCHINO

The Dritchino Open Air music festival will take place for the third time on 29 and 30 May 2026 in Courgenay.

The festival is open to everyone, with a programme designed to appeal to a wide audience and families.

Over two days, regional artists will have the honour of sharing the bill at the Dritchino Open Air Festival with international stars, in an idyllic, open-air setting and a particularly festive atmosphere. Its name, inspired by the local dialect phrase 'drie tchie nos' (meaning 'behind our house'), anchors the event firmly in the cultural and popular landscape.
