DIGGER MUSEUM

The Digger Expo is an interactive exhibition on the project of DIGGER DTR which has been creating demining machines used in 16 countries for more than 20 years. In addition to its active role in the field, Digger has worked since its early days to spread awareness through numerous conferences on the issue of mines. In order to reinforce this didactic and awareness-raising approach, the project of a museum of its own took shape in May 2011. The Digger Expo retraces in a very realistic way the daily life of the victims and shows to what extent the solutions provided by DIGGER DTR give back hope and dignity to thousands of people.
