

FUN & ADVENTURE, RÉCLÈRE

PRÉHISTO-PARC

"Just after visiting the caves, we were happy to be back in the open air and ready to discover the lost world of the dinosaurs. Very soon the path heads into a fairly dense forest and we can make out the tyrannosauruses and brontosauruses in the distance. The children quickly ran off to see them at close quarters. The illusion was so convincing, we felt like we had travelled a few million years back in time. Halfway through, we climbed the watchtower. It was the first time I had seen the Clos du Doubs from the "French side", as the border lies close by. On the way back to the entrance, we met the ancestor of the modern-day chicken. I almost forgot to tell you about the chain bridge over the little artificial lake, where our children enjoyed giving us a good shaking."
