BUSINESS PLANTES

Essential to our survival, plants are the pillars of our economy. Neither gold, nor the rare metals in our telephones, nor even coins can meet so many of our basic needs.

Like the famous business plan of any company, this exhibition tells the story of how plants have influenced the history of mankind and how they impact our daily lives today. As climate moderators and purveyors of biodiversity, plants must be at the heart of not only our ecological concerns, but also our economic ones. Discover the Plants Business at the Botanical Garden and help build a desirable future.
