DIGGER MUSEUM

The Digger Expo is located in Tavannes, the same town where demining machines are produced. It's an interactive exhibition that gives a very realistic insight into the day-to-day workings of the humanitarian demining sector, and shows just how much the solutions provided give back hope and dignity to thousands of people. In the ground, under rubble: anti-personnel mines can be anywhere. Can you spot them? Manual demining techniques are slow and meticulous. Will you have enough nerve? A deminer's protective clothing is heavy. Are you up to the task?
