GRAITERY

"Leaving from Moutier, the road is a long one. Midway, I decide to take the path that winds up in the forest, still cool from the night. The long ridge of Graiter, which reaches 1280 m a.s.l. at its highest point, stretches from Moutier in the north to Grandval in the south, connected by the narrow valley of Chaluët. Dense forests and rugged cliffs add to the charm of Graiter, not to mention the hostels where you can enjoy delicious local products.
